Summary: This is a sequel story to the brilliant story that the ever brilliant Zira the Red Dragon started. All the OCs belong to Zira, all Yu-Gi-Oh characters belong to Konami and 4Kids, How to Train Your Dragon belongs to Dreamworks, if I owned any of this, it wouldn't be fanfiction, it'd be a TV series or a movie. You can read Zira's start up here: s/6631352/1/Duelists-of-Dark-and-Light.

How to Train your Duel Spirit

This is a sequel story to the brilliant story that the ever brilliant Zira the Red Dragon started. All the OCs belong to Zira, all Yu-Gi-Oh characters belong to Konami and 4Kids, How to Train Your Dragon belongs to Dreamworks, if I owned any of this, it wouldn't be fanfiction, it'd be a TV series or a movie. You can read Zira's start up here: s/6631352/1/Duelists-of-Dark-and-Light. Also, I want to note another thing, Zira's had all sorts of monsters that are scourges of Domino, here, it's mainly dragons and draconian monsters.

Spellcasters exist, but they prefer not to fight much. Beasts exist, but they have a low level of intelligence and can't get around that well. Fish and other water monsters exist but again, low level intelligence and they're used for food. Zombies live on Zombie Island, way far away. Winged-Beasts? Too complicated. Beast-Warriors? On a different island. The main threat is dragons and draconian monsters, sorry to disappoint.

After reading the book, Shelen went to the cove where Slifer and the Prince of Darknes went down with a plate of food. "Hello?" Shelen said aloud, she walked forward some more and saw him, sitting on his legs. "Prince of Darkness? I brought you some food." "I appreciate the effort. But, it is unnecessary ." "Unnecessary? What do you mean?" The Prince sighed. "Eveything comes to an end. A troubled time, a fun day with friends, the seasons. Ad yes, unfortunately, even life comes to an end." "What are you saying?" "My time has come." "You mean... you're dying?" "Don't think of it that way, think of it as passing on, to the next stage of life. But unfortunately..."

he trailed off, he began to fade. "Wait!" he said, got up and ran up to Shelen and took his necklace off and put it on her neck. "Wha-? What's this for?" The prince began to fade entirely. "Where I am from it is tradition when one's time comes to pass the Mileneum Puzzle to another. Since I am not home, I must pass the puzzle to the closest sentient being, you." "But..." Shelen said, "what am I supposed to do with this?" "You will know in time. All I will tell you is this: guard it with your life." He faded after he finished his words.

Shortly after the prince faded, the Mileneum Puzzle began to glow, Shelen began to panic as her body began to glow. Shelen felt energy build up and then a beam of energy fired into the sky.

After the energy fired into the sky, black clouds began to swirl around the area the energy fired into. A large red a black serpent like dragon descended from the clouds, it roared and began to fly down to the cove. Unfortunately, since he had been hiding in darkness for such a long time, Slifer didn't see the tree that was right in front of him and...

crashed into it. The large dragon began to thrash around. Shelen, frightened by this whole ordeal ran out of the cove. As she ran through the forest she stopped behind a tree and looked back, Slifer was still thrashing about in the cove, still too paniced to think, Shelen ran as fast as she could to New Domino.

This is only the beginning... (or middle, whatever)...
